WHAT CAN YOU DO AT UA?

The sky's the limit.

The highest-achieving students are drawn to UA for its transformative opportunities. Across disciplines, you will take on meaningful research alongside award-winning faculty. Earn your place in one of the most proven and dynamic Honors College programs in the country. Or begin advancing toward a master's degree while still an undergraduate. The opportunities - and the impact - are limited only by your ambition.

EXPAND YOUR BOUNDARIES.

Peyton Strickland rises beyond expectations as an aerospace engineering scholar. Peyton is the first student from any college or university in Alabama to be named one of the TOP 20 STEM STUDENTS in the nation by Aviation Week and The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics. He is also a GOLDWATER SCHOLAR, the most prestigious national award for students studying natural sciences, mathematics and engineering. He is on course to earn both his bachelor's and master's degrees in aerospace engineering, setting an atmospheric trajectory for his future.

" I BELIEVE ALABAMA IS THE BEST CHOICE, ESPECIALLY FOR STUDYING ENGINEERING, BECAUSE OF THE FACULTY. THEY HAVE DONE EVERYTHING TO MAKE SURE THAT I AM SUCCESSFUL ON CAMPUS. "

Peyton Strickland | Aerospace Engineering | Class of 2020

YOUR BEST LIFE AT UA!

Morning run on the Riverwalk. Lunch with friends at the Ferg. Late-night study session at Gorgas. UA is simply unmatched in the quality of student life. Starting with three top-of-the-line recreation centers, five well-appointed libraries, abundant food and dining options and an industry-leading campus transportation system, UA continues to exceed student expectations.

It all begins where you live, in one of UA's 34 residence halls. From classic, affordable living spaces in the heart of campus, to prominent suites rising above the river, UA has created exceptional living options to meet students' needs. All the elements of your best life are ready for you, here on the UA campus.

"WHEN I VISITED THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA, I KNEW IT WAS FAR ABOVE THE OTHER SCHOOLS I WAS CONSIDERING. I WANTED TO TELL EVERYONE ABOUT EVERYTHING I SAW AND ALL THE AMAZING OPPORTUNITIES YOU CAN FIND ON THIS CAMPUS."

Gracie O'Connor | Marketing | Class of 2022

EXPLORE YOUR PASSION.

Gracie, an Honors College student and presidential scholarship recipient from Palm Beach, Fla., launched her popular YouTube channel while attending BAMA BOUND freshman orientation in Summer 2018. More than 17,000 subscribers have followed this legend-in-the-making through move-in, sorority recruitment, study sessions, leadership training, Greek Week, finals and more.

BUILD YOUR DREAM.

UA students live a well-connected life, with more than 600 social, service, political, cultural, arts, academic, recreational and religious-based student organizations. These groups bring students together in purpose, developing community and engagement while expanding their experience.

Ambitious students make the most of programs like WEEK OF WELCOME and GET ON BOARD DAY to engage with the groups that will distinguish their college career and elevate the community.

“MY GOAL IS TO ONE DAY BE THE FIRST AFRICAN AMERICAN GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA. HERE AT UA, I AM BUILDING THE FOUNDATION I NEED TO ONE DAY REACH THAT GOAL.”

Marquis Hollingsworth | Business and Political Science | Class of 2020

Future Governor

As a former drummer in the MILLION DOLLAR BAND, Marquis Hollingsworth reveled in being in the stadium to cheer the CRIMSON TIDE football team to victory – including the 2018 national championship. But for Marquis, the tradition of excellence at Alabama extends far beyond athletics. He has served the University as an orientation leader, a member of Freshman Forum, chairman of the Student Government Association and a leader at the Blackburn Institute. Marquis works tirelessly to improve the University, the lives of his fellow students and the people of Alabama. He is confident his experience and ability will carry him to a position of even greater influence.

BECOME A LEGEND.

When Alana Doyle (center) was named PRWeek magazine's 2019 PUBLIC RELATIONS STUDENT OF THE YEAR, it meant back-to-back national titles for UA students. Dr. Joseph E. Phelps (right), chairman of UA's advertising and public relations department, served as a mentor to both Alana and fellow class member Maret Montanari (left), 2018 national winner, through their college careers and competitions. Both women were leaders in the Capstone Agency, UA's student-run PR firm, named PRWEEK'S STUDENT AGENCY OF THE YEAR in 2018. Overall, UA's PR program has ranked as one of the Top 5 in the country eight of the past 11 years.

"I COULDN'T HAVE ACCOMPLISHED WHAT I'VE ACCOMPLISHED IF I HADN'T COME TO THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA. THE FACULTY AND STAFF DO EVERYTHING THEY CAN TO PREPARE YOU FOR SUCCESS, AND THE STUDENTS CONTINUALLY PUSH EACH OTHER TO DO BETTER AND TO BE BETTER."

Alana Doyle | Public Relations | Class of 2019

Tuscaloosa, about an hour southwest of Birmingham, is situated along the banks of the Black Warrior River in west-central Alabama. A city of about 100,000 people, Tuscaloosa rises to the occasion on fall Saturdays when the population more than doubles in full show for the CRIMSON TIDE defending championships at Bryant-Denny Stadium.

The winning energy carries through the year with several music festivals and headlining concerts rocking downtown on Government Plaza or in the Tuscaloosa Amphitheater. Local shops and restaurants reflect the steadfast nature of the city to adapt to change and come out better for it, setting new standards for the South.

Tuscaloosa provides UA students the space to stretch their boundaries. In addition to campus, the Tuscaloosa area offers a range of outdoor spaces that highlight the historical progress of the city and the beauty of the area. It's so much more than a college town.
