SUMMER 2020

THE GIFT PLANNING NEWSLETTER OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Celia Canning's relationship with Boston College began nearly 30 years ago with on-campus tailgates and football games at Alumni Field with her husband, Rich Canning '81. For her, those early memories are some of the most precious.

"When we were first married, we went to football games all the time," she reflects. "We sat in the top bleacher at the end zone. Campus was always so beautiful, and the students were friendly. I would envision how great it would be if we had kids and they went to BC."

Today, they are the proud parents of three children—including two Eagles, Maddy '23 and Michael '24 (oldest daughter Olivia graduated from the University of Redlands in 2016). In honor of their long relationship with BC, Rich and Celia recently made an unrestricted bequest to the University.

This commitment is a testament to their belief in the Jesuit, Catholic mission of Boston College.

"As a couple, we've had a longtime interest, passion, commitment, relationship with the University," says Rich. "BC has been a constant in my life since I was an undergraduate in the Carroll School of Management. And, ever since we first met, Celia has poured herself into it as well," he adds. "Now, with two of our children there, the school is an integral part of our family—which dictated that we do something on behalf of our family."

The Cannings' unrestricted bequest will give Boston College the flexibility

PAYING IT FORWARD

RICH '81 AND CELIA CANNING, P'23, '24

AN UNRESTRICTED BEQUEST PROVIDES BOSTON COLLEGE WITH SECURITY FOR THE FUTURE

Together, the Cannings want to pay it forward and help future generations of Eagles experience the unique education that BC delivers.

"My time as a student in the Carroll School prepared me with the tools I needed to begin my career and still use today," Rich says. "But it was the entire liberal arts curriculum that delivered the context, ethics, and ability to think critically, analyze, and communicate that have been foundational to my life."

And it is that foundation that first motivated the couple
