Dear Spartan Community,

Tomorrow kicks off San José State University's 1857 Minutes of Giving—a special opportunity for our entire Spartan community to come together and support the students, faculty, and staff who make SJSU such a vibrant place.

With more than 100 projects participating this year, I have no doubt you'll find at least one, if not more, that speaks to you and inspires you to give.

While every initiative is meaningful, I've personally chosen to support two projects that are especially close to my heart:

- SJSU Cares provides crucial support for students facing tough times and complicated challenges.
- The Campus Art and Culture Fund Preserving and celebrating the arts is essential to who we are as a community. Contributions to this fund help maintain existing artwork on campus and bring in new pieces that reflect our rich history and diversity.

I invite you to join me in making a difference during 1857 Minutes of Giving. Every gift, big or small, adds up to something powerful. Let's make every minute count!

Thank you for your continued dedication and support. I am deeply grateful for your commitment to San José State University and our shared values.

Warm regards,
