

YOU'RE GOING PLACES
STAY SAFE
OUT THERE

IUPUI is full of places to go, things to do, and people to meet. In other words, it's a busy campus, and traffic can sometimes be a mess. Before you set out to discover IUPUI and the city of Indianapolis, read these quick tips for staying safe in the city.

PAY ATTENTION TO THE ROAD Drivers and pedestrians both are responsible for paying attention to the road. Keep your eyes up and at least one ear free so you can see and hear what's happening around you.

USE THE CROSSWALKS More than 28,000 vehicles travel through the IUPUI campus each day. Use the crosswalks and pay attention to oncoming traffic.

MAKE EYE CONTACT WITH DRIVERS Just because you can see a car, doesn't mean the car's driver can see you. Slow down, look both ways, and make eye contact with drivers before you cross a busy street.
