

QBI's Clem Jones Centre for Ageing Dementia Research

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS OF RESEARCH EXCELLENCE

Cocktail Reception

Monday 10 October 2022
Queensland Brain Institute

Please join Professor Pankaj Sah and Professor Jürgen Götz to celebrate 10 years of excellence in brain research at the Clem Jones Centre for Ageing Dementia Research \(CJCADR\) at the Queensland Brain Institute (QBI).

In 2012, through the generous support of Government and the Clem Jones Foundation, CJCADR was established, and this partnership has continued with the shared vision of solving the challenge of dementia for the community at large.

Bringing together 100 scientists and 10 research groups, CJCADR combines discovery and innovation with a shared goal to improve brain health. Since its inception, the Centre's vital research has shed new light on the causes of dementia and inspired potential new treatments and therapies.

Together, let us celebrate the past, present and future.
