During my time at All Saints', I have learned countless valuable lessons that taught me resilience, responsibility, and perseverance. These foundational values instilled in me during my time at All Saints' have truly shaped who I am today and will stick with me throughout the rest of my life. Because of All Saints', I was able to find lifelong friends and develop my ethical compass, which allowed me to define my true character.

Looking ahead, I am most excited for the unknown. I have always been one who likes consistency, but for once, I am ready for change. I'm ready to be on my own and figure out the whole "adulting" lifestyle, even if it's difficult at first.

I am looking forward to experiencing something new in my next steps of life. I have been at All Saints' since preschool so I am excited to meet new people and go somewhere I don't know everyone. I'm eager for the friendships I will make and the knowledge I will gain while at the University of Georgia.

All Saints' has allowed me to make life-long friendships with my fellow students, teachers, and coaches, and has pushed me to be the best version of myself. My 14 years at All Saints' have taught me how to be a respectful person and how to be part of a community. The All Saints' phrase, "Protect the Family," has been instilled in me since an early age, and I have genuinely learned what it means to live this out because of my time at All Saints'.

In addition, through the courses I took, specifically Junior Honors Thesis, I realized that I want to attend medical school and make a difference in the world by helping others. Every teacher, faculty member, and student who I have gotten to know during my time at All Saints' has made an impact on my future goals
