

Inclusion and Talent Management Conference

May 21 - 22, 2024

ONLINE CONFERENCE

This conference will provide a learning exercise in what constitutes good inclusive practice and will explore how we can move from conversation on inclusion and talent management to action.

Through a series of deep dives, discussions and key and surgery sessions, this conference will provide space to provocatively reflect on our individual and institutional practice and help define the agenda for activity for the coming years. It will:

- Define what is meant by inclusive practice
- Address the difference between good practice and good intention
- Identify ways to develop and nurture a culture of equity, diversity, inclusion, and belonging in your team and in your work
- Develop your interpersonal skills to build strong professional relationships when faced with environments that are challenging

Audience:

40-50 professionals with managerial roles or aspiring to this level. This conference is offering institutional passes (progressive discounts for institutions according to the number of delegates they are registering).

Programme:

The programme is available here https://www.case.org/conferences-training/inclusion-and-talent-management-conference/schedule?f%5B0%5D=session\_dates%3A2024-05-21

Planning Committee:

Rob Henry, Crystal Apple Winner, Vice President, People, Culture & Talent, Council for Advancement and Support of Education

Jhumar Johnson, Chief of Staff to the Vice-Chancellor, The Open University

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

	Ed. Partner	Non-Ed. Partner
Sponsor	£ 1,700 + VAT	£ 2,040 + VAT

Benefits:

- One 60-min speaking session breakout
- Acknowledgement by the conference chairs
- Company logo (with link) on conference website
- Two complimentary delegate passes
- List of delegates

How to book your sponsorship

Please get in touch with Cristina Marochi (cmarochi@case.org). A contract will be prepared and your sponsorship will be confirmed once it is signed.